

A welcome from the Headteacher

Our school is a great and vibrant community of pupils and staff well supported by parents. With a growing roll of 680 pupils we achieve a family atmosphere in which the strong relationships between staff and pupils are very evident. Pupils are valued as individuals with their own talents ready to be developed and shared in the community. As Head teacher, I am always struck by the dedicated commitment of staff to pupils in their care. This is central in making it the happy community that it is.

We are a dual specialist College (Sports and Maths & Computing) and the hub school in a strong and extensive Sports Development Partnership with local Primary and High Schools. Our specialisms have helped us develop leadership opportunities across the school and have supported a complete reconfiguring of our Rewards Policy so that more and more of our pupils are rewarded for academic excellence, effort and active participation.

The catholic dimension of the school is important to our identity since it gives us the solid grounding to our mission and our values which we strive to live out every day.

We pride ourselves in living up to our expectation to celebrate excellence, wherever we find it. The fruits of this endeavour can be found in excellent GCSE results and a pupil-culture of contribution to the school and community described by Ofsted as outstanding.

Martin Reynolds
Head Teacher